Fagioli Deutschland were awarded a contract by Schuller Pressen for the installation of a 6 layer transfer press for Audi AG in Ingolstadt, Germany. In addition a second contract was awarded for a training press.

All of the press components had to be delivered to an outside wall, lifted and taken into the building through a narrow opening. Once inside the components were installed in position and rotated as necessary.

During an 18 week period 1,010 pieces weighing a total of 4,100 tonnes were unloaded, unpacked, transferred into the building and finally installed.
